

Dear Parents/Carers,

Thank you to those who have donated lots of resources for our weekly gardening club! It has well and truly taken off and all of our generous donations are being put to good use.

Spring Term Progress reports will be posted home on Monday 28th March, along with details of our parent evenings. At the moment, following current guidance, we plan to hold these on our virtual platform, School Cloud.

We're looking forward to our STEM workshops next week! The Marine Society & Sea Cadets join us next Friday to work with our Y7 and Y8 pupils. They will learn through practical activities and experiments about buoyancy, displacement, density, Newton's 3rd Law and Archimedes Principle. In teams, they'll be tasked with designing and building a ship which is stable in the water while carrying as much cargo as possible. Looking forward to seeing what they all come up with!

At the time of writing this, we have a very low number of pupils isolating with Covid-19 – only 2, which is great. Our extra cleaning regimes remain in practice, along with extra hand-washing and sanitising throughout the school day.

Have a lovely weekend,

Lindsay Hamilton

Author Visit

It was great to welcome local author, Dan Smith, into school on Monday! Dan talked about his life as an author and then delivered a creative writing workshop with some of our KS3 pupils. We can't wait to read their short stories, centred around the Roman theme: 'Back In Time'!

Lots of pupils bought one of Dan's novels and were lucky enough to get them signed!

Terrific Tasting!

We had a wonderful, tasting afternoon, thanks to the The Boe Rigg! Parents, pupils and staff had a real treat sampling the delicious options from our current school lunch menu and trying lots of different new foods. Thank you very much, Neil and Linda, for providing this opportunity!

Some Great Opportunities...

There's an exciting, upcoming event at Forum Books in Corbridge!
